

Early literacy what happens before your child learns to read. It is broken down into six skills:

LOVING BOOKS (Print motivation): being interested in and enjoying books.

USING BOOKS (Print awareness): understanding that print has meaning; noticing print everywhere; knowing how to handle a book.

LEARNING WORDS (Vocabulary): books contain a wider range of vocabulary than our spoken conversations.

SEEING LETTERS (Letter knowledge): knowing that letters look different from each other; knowing letter names and sounds.

HEARING SOUNDS (Phonological sensitivity): being able to hear the difference between similar sounds and play with the smaller sounds that make up words.

TELLING a STORY (Narrative skills): being able to describe things and events, and tell stories.
