NORTHBROOK
PUBLIC LIBRARY

Notes from the Executive Director

Every April we celebrate Earth Day. Since 1970, it has raised awareness of the need to protect our natural resources for future generations. As part of Earth Day, environmentalists encouraged everyone to follow the 3 R's: Reduce, Reuse, Recycle. Libraries are the original inventors of reduce, reuse, and recycle; we just didn't know to call it that.

Reduce: We reduce the amount of paper needed by purchasing books that can be widely shared.

Reuse: After purchasing books and other materials, we share them with as many people as possible. Some items have hundreds of checkouts before it is time for them to go to their next home.

Recycle: Once a book is removed from the collection, it's given a chance for a new life, by being donated to another organization, sold in the Friends' Bookshop, or added to one of our Little Free Libraries.

So pat yourself on the back the next time you check out an item, and know that you are helping to protect our planet for future generations. If that's not a good enough reason to find something to read, watch, or listen to, I don't know what is.

Kate Hall
Executive Director

NEWS & UPDATES

YOUR 5 STAR LIBRARY

For the fourth year in a row, we have been awarded a 5 Star rating by the Library Journal Index of Public Library Service. We are one of only ten libraries across the nation in our budget category to receive the highest rating. We're proud to be included with the best of the best in Illinois and across the nation, especially since this rating is based on services provided to the community in 2020, at a time when our library, like all public libraries, was affected by COVID restrictions.

FRIENDS' BOOK SALE

Join us in the lobby on Friday, March 17 and Saturday, March 18 from 10:00am-4:00pm for the next Friends Book Sale. All proceeds from the sale benefit the Friends and the library.

ACCESSIBILITY HOUR RETURNS

We know visiting the library can sometimes be overwhelming for individuals and families with disabilities, so on Sunday, March 26 we'll open at 12:00pm, one hour earlier than usual, so you can enjoy the library's resources in an atmosphere of lower sensory stimulation.

AUTOMATIC HOLDS FOR LARGE PRINT BOOKS & AUDIOBOOKS

Never miss your favorite author's new book! We can automatically place a hold for you on any new titles released by more than 200 popular authors. Just let us know the authors you are interested in and the format you prefer: books (standard or large print) or audiobooks (CD or Playaway). Fill out our online form at www.northbrook.info/automatic-holds or call 847-272-2830.

PERIOD PRODUCT COLLECTION

Drop off period products from March 1-31 in the collection box in our lobby to be donated to A Safe Place, a local domestic violence shelter.

LET US KNOW YOUR THOUGHTS!

Hi! Since you're reading our newsletter right now, we'd like to invite you to take a minute to let us know what you like most about the newsletter and what you'd like to read more (or less) of. Take our short survey at www.northbrook.info/newsletter-survey.

Get Ready for the Academy Awards

Pre-Academy Awards Lecture and Discussion with Zbigniew Banas

Join Loyola film professor and journalist Zbigniew Banas for an informative dive into this year's Academy Awards and the contending films. 🧑

Tuesday, March 7, 2:00-3:00pm, Auditorium

We asked Margo in Fiction & Media for her Oscar predictions, and she shared them with the caveat that "it's really difficult to make predictions this early because a lot can change before March 12!" She also thinks this year's Oscars will be especially interesting because of the "nice mix of popular crowd-pleasing films along with small independents."

Turn to page 7 to see how you can watch some of these Oscar-nominated films at the library.

BEST PICTURE There is something for everyone here, but that also makes it a really difficult choice. I'm going to pick The Banshees of Inisherin for the win.

BEST DIRECTOR I think "The Daniels" (Daniel Kwan & Daniel Scheinert), will get the nod for Everything Everywhere All at Once.

BEST ACTRESS I'm picking Cate Blanchett for Tár, but I also really loved Michelle Yeoh's performance in Everything Everywhere All at Once.

BEST ACTOR The competition in this category is really fierce, but I think Brendan Fraser will take home the Oscar this year for The Whale.

You & the Library: Partners in Sustainability

When you think about recycling, libraries might not spring instantly to mind, but libraries and our patrons have shared and reused, rather than purchased and disposed of untold millions of items. Across the world, library patrons are helping to conserve resources, reduce waste, and decrease the need for new materials to be produced. Every time you use your library card you're helping to support the "circular economy."

What is the Circular Economy?

It's a model of production and consumption that involves sharing, leasing, reusing, repairing, refurbishing, and recycling existing materials and products for as long as possible.

In 2022, you were one of many that helped us reach more than one million item check outs at the library. By using your library card to check out books and eBooks, magazines, movies, and more, you're saving money and reducing greenhouse gasses. (Transforming a single tree into paper results in about 100 pounds of CO₂ being released into the atmosphere.) How many books did you check out last year? Think how many pounds of CO₂ you prevented from being released!

You are also helping the environment in other ways when you use the library. At our three (so far) Northbrook Repairs events, which connect skilled volunteers with people who need an item repaired, you brought in over 100 items that volunteers were able to repair and keep out of a landfill. In the past, the volunteers have helped to repair lamps, bikes, jewelry, and even toys.

Our recycling stations in the lobby across from the elevator have seen thousands of common household items like batteries, worn-out markers, used toothbrushes, empty snack wrappers, and more brought in by you instead of being tossed into a landfill.

Though only a couple of years old, you have actively used our Library of Things collection, which provides items that may only need to be used once in a while. Checking these out from the library reduces the need for them to be manufactured, purchased, and shipped.

What is a Library of Things?

It's a collection of useful items you can check out with your library card. Our Library of Things has more than 30 items, including a 55-piece tool kit, an outdoor movie theater kit, and mobile hotspots! Stop by the collection in our lobby or learn more about it at www.northbrook.info/library-things.

The library wants to keep up with all the efforts everyone in the community is making to be more sustainable.

In 2021, we signed onto the Village of Northbrook's Climate Action Plan and we meet quarterly with intergovernmental partners to try to help our community become even more sustainable. The library was awarded a silver medal in the Village of Northbrook's beta "Green Business Checklist" program.

Behind the scenes, we are also trying to go "zero waste," by implementing a plan to ensure that all materials used in library events are reusable, recyclable, or compostable. All of our events are focused on being zero waste and even the materials we remove from the collection are rehomed. After our books on the shelves reach the end of their lifecycle, they are first offered to the Friends of the Library to sell in their Bookshop in the library's lobby or in one of their popular book sales.

Books that are not selected for the Bookshop may be added to one of our seven Little Free Libraries, provided to area residential facilities, as well as to other organizations, including Bernie's Book Bank, a local non-profit that distributes quality new and gently used books to at-risk children throughout the Chicago area. Books that do not find their way to any of these locations are picked up by Discover Books, an online bookseller.

Together, we are making a difference in Northbrook's environmental efforts and will continue to promote sustainable practices. Thank you for partnering with us on this important work.

You can use our recycling stations in the lobby to drop off household batteries, eyeglasses, cell phones, empty snack/candy wrappers, unusable pens, pencils, markers, glue sticks, used toothbrushes, empty dental floss containers, and toothpaste tubes.

Accessibility Hour (Drop-In) SP

We know visiting the library can be overwhelming for individuals and families with disabilities, so for a more sensory-friendly experience, we invite you to visit an hour before our regular opening time on Sunday, March 26. You'll have the opportunity to tour the building, check out materials, and enjoy the library's resources in an atmosphere of lower sensory stimulation. We also invite visitors to join us in the Youth Services department for a sensory-friendly craft. 👤

Sunday, March 26, 12:00-1:00pm, Library-wide

Averaging just 3.5" in length, the golden-crowned kinglet is just one of the many birds that migrate through our area each spring and fall.

Learn About Migrating Birds (All Ages, Drop-In) 🌱

Get ready to see all of the songbirds that migrate through our community each spring by picking up a bird coloring sheet at the Youth Services desk all month long. 👤

Coloring pages are available at the Youth Services desk from March 1-31

Don't miss our Saturday Family Films on page 7!

EARLY LITERACY TIP

Even from birth, babies are playing. They use play to learn about their world. A baby may grab onto a rattle that you offer and shake it. At first babies don't realize that by moving their arm they are causing the rattle to make a noise. Over a few months your baby will be making the connection between their own actions and what is happening around them.

Try this simple rhyme with your child to help them better understand their world—and get in some more play time!

Bouncing, bouncing, baby on my knee

Bouncing, bouncing, 1, 2, 3!

Clapping, clapping, baby on my knee

Clapping, clapping, 1, 2, 3!

Rocking, rocking, baby on my knee

Rocking, rocking, 1, 2, 3!

FRIENDS OF THE LIBRARY

From the Board President

Dear Friends,

Are you ready for Spring? Thanks to your spring cleaning and generous book donations, our bookshop shelves are full! Visit us any time the library is open. Mark your calendar for our "March Madness" sale on March 17-18, and come early for the best selection. Remember that all of the funds we receive go right back into the library as programs and services.

National Library Week is April 23-29 and the theme is "There's More to the Story." We know about books in all their formats, but there's so much more to the story. Friends of the Library supports programming like films, discussion groups, storytimes, crafting classes, and lectures. We also provide coupons for the reading programs. And in the coming months, we plan to help with technology improvements and landscaping. You can be part of this by becoming a member. Fill out and mail in the form on this page or join or renew online at www.northbrook.info/friends.

If you would like to learn more about how to volunteer with Friends of the Library, email us at friends@northbrook.info.

Sincerely,

Merrill Medansky
Friends Board President

If you're not sure we have your email address, send an email to us at friends@northbrook.info and we'll add you to our email list.
