BOARD NEWS

Thank you for all your well wishes and support after my mother passed away. I can't tell you how much I appreciate the support and kindness.

FIT INTO PATRONS' LIVES

Fiction & Media

- The Book Bingo contest, which challenges readers to complete different reading categories and complete rows on a bingo-style card, received 12 entries in September and October after it was promoted in the newsletter. Patrons who completed rows on the Bingo sheet qualified for a prize drawing. The winner received a Sunset Foods gift card. A new Bingo game will be offered on a quarterly basis.
- Due to the continued interest in programs and collections that showcase local Northbrook talent, the library hosted its inaugural open mic night on October 10. Twenty-five people were in attendance, nine of whom participated by sharing their talents at the open mic. The performers, who ranged in age from young adult to senior, treated the attendees to various forms of storytelling as well as a variety of musical performances.
- The Fine Arts Fall classical music series featured three concerts in October, and continues into November. A goal of this year's series has been to broaden attendees' horizons in classical music through diversifying the types of music and instruments featured throughout the series, while still retaining a high quality core of piano and string-based concerts.
- The annual Northbrook Writes program series kicked off on September 7-8 with a presentation on Resolution and Ambiguity by Jac Jemc, author of the acclaimed novel The Grip of It. The series, which provides aspiring writers the opportunity to learn from published authors, continues into November.
- A turntable has been added to the collection and should be available for checkout in the near future. The goal of this addition is to support and highlight the library's vinyl record collection and to enable patrons to use their own record collections as well. Digital Services assistant Joe Cirignani created instructions for the turntable that will be included at each checkout.

Reference

- Chicago cultural programs continue to be popular with patrons. Hala Haddad hosted Chicago World Fairs on October 3 during which the 1893 & 1933 World Fairs were discussed including the effect they had on Chicago's population and culture.
- Jill Franklin hosted The Electoral College: Does Your Vote Count. Presented by the League of Women Voters of Wilmette, the presenter distilled a complex topic into a comprehensible, compelling case for moving to a direct voting system. They displayed results of previous elections in graphs that clearly show how direct voting allows all voters in all states can influence elections.

Technical Services

• Cataloging Librarian Sara Scodius is happy to report that the Foreign/World movie reclassification project is complete, allowing patrons to browse and find films by language rather than title.

Youth Services

- On October 5 & 6 Bridget Golembiewski coordinated the Find the Right Test for You event presented by C2 Educate. We offered a new version of the Find the Right Test for You program with C2 Education that included an in-person score review session, so teens and parents could get their results sooner with further information on understanding the scores. More than half the attendees came back with their parents to this optional session.
- On October 14 we hosted an after school event featuring The Magic & Art Show. 120 patrons attended the sold out event showing this time frame for this type of program worked for our community. Amanda Lopez coordinated this popular event.
- Our annual 1000 Books Before Kindergarten Celebration was on October 17. Anna Fillmore and Amanda Lopez coordinated this event that featured a concert by beloved children's musician Jim Gill, a baby play area, a pop up playground made from recyclable household items, and of course, sign up for our 1000 Books Before Kindergarten program. This year, we combined this event with our local preschool vendor fair and hosted 8 schools and enrichment organizations from Northbrook who provided information about their programs to event attendees.
- We offered a Tinker event for young makers and scientists to try some of our many STEM enrichment options including driving our Sphero robots, coding our Arduinos and Ozobots, and more. Offering this program on a Saturday afternoon annually allows us to showcase some of our programs options in bitesize pieces for those who may not be able to attend sessions after school.

- Our Fall Accessibility Hour was on October 20 and programming focused on our library's very own sensory programming. Participants got to use kinetic sand, sensory bins, and more in Halloween themed play! They also were able to experience the library 1 hour before we opened on Sunday in a relaxed, quiet environment.
- Another annual event, Storyfest: Halloween was on October 25. Patrons enjoy this Halloween themed event which brings the community together in their Halloween costumes to celebrate the popular holiday with crafts, STEM activities, games, and a Halloween themed storytime.
- Amanda Margis worked with OSG to create a timely book display of bear books with a live bear cam feed to highlight Katmai National Park's "Fat Bear Contest" and their on-going bear conservation work. The contest asks people to vote

"March Madness" style for the bear that has gotten the fattest of the summer. Patrons really enjoyed watching the bear cam as they browsed books about bears. https://www.vox.com/energy-and-environment/2019/10/2/20894942/fatbear-week-2019-katmai-national-park-fattest-bear-contest

Our partnership with the International Children's Film Festival continued this year with a fest on October 26. 70 children and their families were able to view 12 short films from around the world and vote for the "Best of the Fest". The winner this year was a film entitled "Imagine That". The ICFF is presented by Nicole Drieske, a film expert and Northbrook resident, who offers a brief introduction into how children can engage your mind when watching films and critically examine your reaction to them. The ICFF also offers our patrons an opportunity to view unique film content from around the world!

EXPAND AND DEEPEN COMMUNITY CENTERED INITIATIVES AND PARTNERSHIPS

- Linda Vering worked with staff at the Village to help promote the Community Relation Commission's Celebration of Cultures event by displaying items in our lobby display case. The event was held at the NSYMCA on November 3.
- This month the Northbrook Public Library featured a Celebration of Cultures film series in partnership with the Northbrook Community Relations Commission, featuring films in Japanese, Polish, Spanish, Korean, and Hebrew. The library partnered with JCC for the final film of the series, Shoelaces. The evening screening included a discussion following the screening with Jen Philips from Keshet, an internationally recognized organization, known for its leading edge services for individuals with disabilities. The afternoon screening drew 116 patrons and the evening screening drew 128 patrons.

- In collaboration with RAIN (Racial Awareness in the Northshore), the library hosted a book discussion on Jennifer Harvey's Raising White Kids: Bringing Up Children in a Racially Unjust America. The discussion was facilitated by LCSW/Co-Founder of Parenting Perspectives Lauren Bondy. The program was created based on feedback from previous partnership events, where attendees indicated a desire to continue to explore topics of racial and social justice.
- On October 10th librarians Madison Carroll and Bill Pekara presented at a PEO Sisterhood Chapter meeting that was taking place in a patron's home to share information on some of the music streaming services the library has to offer. The patron also asked specifically if Bill Pekara still worked at the library as she was his 1st grade teacher and had heard was a librarian here. Their presentation focused on the basics of accessing the libraries website and using Hoopla and Naxos. They also discussed the legality of streaming music and provided handouts with the instructions they covered.
- In order to improve and expand service for homebound patrons, the Library has added a Homebound Volunteer to our team to assist with delivering materials and visiting patrons. In addition to freeing up staff for other tasks, the Homebound Volunteer will add value to the patron experience by allowing for more time during visits. Through this, we hope to discover other materials and services needed by our patrons as well as provide some of the social experience that patrons in the Library receive. Finally, having volunteers deliver some of our homebound deliveries will be helpful as demographics change and the homebound program grows.

- Our second Police Officer Storytime of the year was October 11. Having police officers present storytime help strengthen our relationship with the police and provides children context for interacting with police officers.
- We partnered with CATCH (Community Action Together for Children's Health) to present a workshop entitled "Practicing Failure". Bridget Golembiewski coordinated this event.
- The fall School Librarian Breakfast was October 29. We host these events to allow Northbrook school librarians an opportunity to network with each other and public library staff. We also promoted our upcoming Axis 360 digital lending platform, Kanopy, and Winter Reading.

INNOVATE AND IMPROVE BASED ON USAGE, NEEDS AND TRENDS

- Brodie, Linda, and our photographer Barbara Freeman presented at the ILA conference on the importance of photography in telling your library's stories, and tips for taking great photographs in the library.
- Due to their popularity, we have moved the Who HQ books from their various areas in Juvenile non-fiction to one shelf. We hope this improved discoverability and browsing opportunities who enjoy these popular non-fiction titles.

BUILD A HIGH CAPACITY ORGANIZATIONAL INFRASTRUCTURE

New Hires – (Replacements)

- Brittany Hewerdine, full-time Graphic Designer (Admin) started on October 1.
- Felycia Noblet, part-time Clerk (Circulation) started on October 1.
- MacConnell Wilson, part-time Shelver (Circulation) started on October 2.
- Sunkyung Lee, part-time Shelver (Circulation) started on October 17.

Change in Status/Position:

• Nirali Sharma, changed from part-time Program Assistant to regular part-time Youth Services Assistant (YS) on October 18.

Terminations

(Terminations refer to all persons leaving library employment for any reason, including resignations and retirements)

• None

Continuing Education

• Numerous staff attended the annual Illinois Library Association conference in Tinley Park, IL from Oct. 22-24. Multiple staff presented, but they also attended sessions on programming, technology, marketing, and many more innovative and interesting sessions. Staff are very appreciative of the board's willingness to fund conference attendance.

MAINTAIN A SECURE, SUSTAINABLE, AND WELL-RESOURCED LIBRARY

- The library has launched a social media project to spotlight local creators who have contributed their work(s) to the Northbrook Library's Local Collection, which features donated works by creators who have a strong connection to Northbrook. Writers spotlighted in the article have commented, "I am humbled and honored. Thank you, it looks amazing! I am so grateful for this opportunity." "I am so happy to be part of this great town. Lots of love to my favorite library!"
- Mary Kay Perrenot discontinued print and ordered Weiss Financial Ratings Online. It is a similar price and we are hoping it will be easier for patrons to access. We will be able to more easily track usage online. We also discontinued Gale Virtual Reference Library (GVRL) due to low usage.
- Frosting discussions started on window frosting in January with Managers. In March, met with Dave Trudeau from Clear Armour regarding shatterproof film and pricing. Clear Armour was very expensive. Requested quotes from ASI, Fast Signs and Cushing. Signed the agreement with Fast Signs finalized design – working with Fast Signs on final measurements.

COLLABORATORY UPDATE

Prepared by: Cathleen Doyle October, 2019

RECENT PROJECTS

THE USER EXPERIENCE

From DSA Michelle Mistalski: "A patron, Julie Lu, came in really excited to create a pillowcase from remnant upholstery fabric that she liked. Julie set up a 30minute one-on-one sewing appointment with me to discuss how she should go about sewing a pillowcase that did not involve a button or zipper closure. We decided on a fold over design and because the upholstery fabric had two sides to it, we made the pillowcase reversible. Julie said she felt really comfortable with learning how to use a sewing machine and is ecstatic to come back to the Collaboratory with more sewing project ideas."

From DSA Kate Henry: "A patron had come in and worked out how to laser engrave baseball bats with Michelle a few days earlier. Today he came in with another baseball bat and a different logo that he wanted to engrave on to it. I helped him convert the logo to a useable format and, following Michelle's instructions, set up the bat so that the logo aligned the way he wanted. He was super pleased with the result, and even happier that he had finished in time to go watch a World Series game!"

From DSA Joe Cirignani: I showed a regular patron how to use the laser cutter to etch his design onto the front and back of a coaster. From just looking at it, I know I would have to up the power and PPI due to the thin lines in his design. He left very excited about what he can do with the laser cutter.

FEEDBACK

"Visiting and invited to help a friend...I loved the concept and availability to do interesting and creative projects. The staff (Bob) was most helpful to show me how to use a sewing machine to prepare a charity project." -Rosalie Miller

RAILS Report October 2019

Here is a summary on what projects and initiatives are happening at the library system.

Promote, support, and expand resource sharing to optimize use of tax dollars and other funding and help libraries share resources to the fullest extent possible

RAILS heard today that they are a successful applicant for the IDHS Census 2020 grant. RAILS will be awarded $750,000 for work to promote a complete count.

RAILS is very pleased at this opportunity to work with libraries and other partners on this critical project. They will provide detailed information at the board meeting.

Work with libraries of all types to tell the library story

RAILS most recent podcast was with Brian Shepard, Director of the Indian Trails Public Library District and ILA's Librarian of the Year 2019.

Prepare libraries for the future

At their member update on October 3, one of the topics for discussion was their recent survey of libraries about services they offer to the unserved. They did this survey as part of their work with the Universal Service Committee. The conversation about the survey developed into a general conversation about the laws and rules governing non-resident library cards including fees for cards, what services non-residents are eligible for and the "commonality of community interest" clause in the Administrative Rules. RAILS will be working with the State Library to develop an FAQ to help libraries navigate these very confusing areas. They will also be developing some training for member libraries and additional web resources.

Help libraries be the best they can be

The State Library has filed amended language to Senate Bill 585 (see next page). This bill was filed in response to patron complaints that self-pick-up of holds violates patron privacy and the Illinois Library Records Confidentiality Act. As Julie Tappendorf reported to RAILS at the September board meeting, the self-pick-up of holds process should protect patron confidentiality through the use of a patron "code" that will anonymize patrons and their checkouts.

AMENDMENT TO SENATE BILL 585

AMENDMENT NO._. Amend Senate Bill 585 by replacing everything after the enacting clause with the following:

"Section 5. The Library Records Confidentiality Act is amended by changing Section 1 and by adding Section 5 as follows:

(75 ILCS 70/1) (from Ch. 81, par. 1201)

Sec. 1. (a) The registration and circulation records of a library are confidential information. No person shall publish or make any information, including but not limited to a patron's personal identifiable information, contained in such records available to the public unless:

(1) required to do so under a court order; or

(2) the information is requested by a sworn law enforcement officer who represents that it is impractical to secure a court order as a result of an emergency where the law enforcement officer has probable cause to believe that there is an imminent danger of physical harm. The information requested must be limited to identifying a suspect, witness, or victim of a crime. The information requested without a court order may not include the disclosure of registration or circulation records that would indicate materials borrowed, resources reviewed, or services used at the library. If requested to do so by the library, the requesting law enforcement officer must sign a form acknowledging the receipt of the information. A library providing the information may seek subsequent judicial review to assess compliance with this Section.

This subsection shall not alter any right to challenge the use or dissemination of patron information that is otherwise permitted by law.

(a-5) A library may not put any part of a patron's last name on material that has been reserved by a patron to check out if the material can be viewed by other persons in the library.

(b) This Section does not prevent a library from publishing or making available to the public reasonable statistical reports regarding library registration and book circulation where those reports are presented so that no individual is identified therein.

(b-5) Nothing in this Section shall be construed as a privacy violation or a breach of confidentiality if a library provides information to a law enforcement officer under item (2) of subsection (a).

(c) For the purpose of this Section, (i) "library" means any public library or library of an educational, historical or Document 7.3.1 eleemosynary institution, organization or society; (ii) "registration records" includes any information a library requires a person to provide in order for that person to become eligible to borrow books and other materials and ;(iii) "circulation records" includes all information identifying the , individually or collectively, a patron's complete last or first name, address, internet protocol individual borrowing particular books or materials; and (iv) "personal identifiable information" mean address, social security number, complete telephone number, email address that directly identifies an individual. (Source: P.A. 95-40, eff. 1-1-08.) (75 ILCS 70/5 new) Sec. 5. Violations. A person or entity that violates any provision of this Act commits a petty offense for which a fine of $100 may be imposed for each violation.".

AIMING TO BE THE BEST LIBRARY SYSTEM

Member Communication/Engagement

Library Pulse Section of RAILS Website Features Content on Important Library Issues There is a new section on the RAILS homepage, called The Library Pulse. Moving forward, this section will help member libraries of all types and sizes stay current on the latest issues/ challenges affecting them. (The type of library buttons formerly featured on the homepage were not heavily used and can now be found in the Members section of the website.)

For each issue, libraries will learn how it affects them and why it is important. There will also be links to key resources, details on what RAILS is doing to help with the issue, suggestions for actions libraries can take, and real-world examples of best practices from RAILS members. Library staff will be invited to share what has worked at their library, as well as any other feedback or questions they have about the issue at hand via the Comments section at the bottom of the web page for each issue.

At the time of this writing, the Library Pulse includes information on E-Content Publisher and Pricing Issues and the 2020 Census, with more topics to follow soon.

Describe the library's role in the collection, exhibition and promotion of local history in your community.

9. Planned Use of Funds: Describe how the library plans to use grant monies in order to meet standards in the most recent edition of "Serving Our Public 3.0: Standards for Illinois Public Libraries." Use general categories in identifying actual planned expenditures.
